

STANLEY

BENEFITS

Actuaries. Consultants. Administrators.

Stanley Benefit Services, Inc. is excited to announce ProBenefits of Winston-Salem has purchased our Flexible Spending & COBRA Administration services. This transaction will in no way affect or alter the current administration of our corporate retirement plan clients. Stanley Benefit Services, Inc. will now have greater opportunity to focus our efforts on remaining a local fixture in the administration of 401(k) and Pension Retirement plans. We intend to accomplish this goal by investing more of our time and capital on our retirement client's experience, technology, capacity, and administrative efficiencies. We strive to make all our client interactions a positive experience.

Over 15 years ago, Stanley Benefit Services, Inc. expanded its list of corporate retirement plan services to include the administration of Flexible Spending Accounts and then later COBRA administration. With a local presence in the Triad and the Southeast, our emphasis on expertise, highly customizable service, and positive broker relationships helped fuel the growth we experienced over the years. We are confident ProBenefits equally exemplifies this same quality of service and know our clients' Flexible Spending Account and COBRA administration will benefit from their years of experience and focus.

ProBenefits has been in the benefits administration business since the late 1980s. From their office on Reynolda Road in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, they've put together a team of people who insist on doing things well and doing things right. Each team member brings a specific expertise that contributes to their organizational brain power — from legal to analytical to client relations. Knowing the benefits landscape inside and out and having a team with great depth of knowledge and experience means that they have the resources to continue to keep your benefits in great shape. And because compliance is incredibly important to them — it's why they have benefits attorneys on staff and why they take the time to educate you and communicate all the nuances of benefits administration — you'll still never have to worry that you or your employees are taking a risk. They're not just benefits administrators — they're knowledgeable and caring guides that will help you navigate a challenging benefits landscape by serving as an extension of your team, day in and day out.

ProBenefits' infrastructure, innovation and expertise will enhance the customer experience and help commit more resources to your employees' benefits. The resulting Flexible Spending & COBRA administration will be a stronger, more strategic business.

This transition will be effective on midnight of 9/30/20. Clients will not experience any changes in the immediate future as a result of this transition and their administration will remain on the same platform during and after completion of the conversion. For those clients going through annual re-enrollment October 1, 2020, we will be reaching out to you immediately to ensure a seamless transition.
